Business Men Plan Big Spring Display and Offer Prizes

Uptown Business Men's Association to Hold Spring Display Beginning Thursday Night—Three Prizes Offered by Association, Besides a Loving Cup.

Detailed plans were worked out at a recent meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association for a "Spring Display" to be held throughout the uptown stores on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 24, 25 and 26. The elaborate display will start with an unveiling of windows on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. As an incentive for ingenious window trimming and practical illumination, prizes will be offered to the merchants most skillful in these two arts.

All the uptown merchants are being asked to cooperate in this large display. An attractive feature of the sale will be the dressing of windows and the combined unveiling on the evening of the first day of the sale. As this plan was tried out successfully a few years ago, the merchants are attempting it again.

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation has offered a loving cup for the best lighted window during the occasion. At the last meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association two representatives of the Central Hudson demonstrated the most effective lighting methods and the merchants will have an opportunity to apply their knowledge gained at this demonstration.

In addition, the Uptown Business Men's Association will award three prizes for window dressing. There will be one prize of $15, one of $10, and one of $5. In order that the smaller merchants will have as great an opportunity of winning as the larger dealers, the stores will be divided in three groups. Then a disinterested committee, composed of out-of-town judges will judge the windows for lighting and trimming. As to assure an unbiased choice of winners. The illumination prize will be separate from the other prizes so that a merchant not having modern lighting methods will still have a chance of winning a prize for window trimming.

Pinned Under Heavy Steel Rails

Adler Heatley of New York, Riding in Coal Car Loaded With Steel Rails, Received Injured Foot—He and Companion Arrested for Train Riding.

Adler Heatley, who gave his address as 302 West 125th street, New York city, is in the Kingston City hospital with a badly crushed right foot, and an X-ray will be taken today at the hospital to determine the extent of the injury to the foot. He was pinned beneath heavy steel rails in a coal car on the West Shore tracks in the north yard.

About 8:50 o'clock Friday evening police headquarters was asked to hurry the ambulance to the Flatbush avenue crossing of the West Shore railroad where a man had been injured. According to Officer Tierney of the West Shore police force, Heatley and his companion, Raymond Barrios, 19 years old, of 163 Market street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., had climbed on board the coal car and while in the car the load of steel rails had been suddenly moved by the movement of the train, and Heatley's leg was pinned under the rails.

After he was extricated he was rushed to the hospital where Dr. Frank A. Johnston administered treatment. Heatley and Barrios were placed under arrest on a charge of train riding by Officer Tierney. Barrios was lodged in the county jail and will be given a hearing later.

Scalds Prove Fatal to Baby

Harold E., the seven months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lund, who was scalded Tuesday morning by a tub of boiling water, died at the residence of his parents, 120 Hunter street, early this morning.

The child was playing on the floor of the kitchen with his older brother, John, four years of age, when a tub of boiling water from the kitchen stove upset and drenched both children. How the tub was upset was not learned.

Dr. J. S. Robinson was called and administered aid to the little sufferer but found that Harold was in a very serious condition and not likely to recover.

John, who was not as badly scalded as his younger brother, is resting comfortably and Dr. Robinson said the chances of recovery were very favorable.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. from the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lund, 114 Hunter street. Burial in St. Margaret's cemetery.

Tornadoes Kill Score, 50 Injured

Storm Sweeps Southwestern Missouri and Northwestern Arkansas Killing Score, Injuring at Least Fifty and Destroying Farms.

Joplin, Mo., March 19 (AP).—More than a score of persons were killed and at least fifty injured, many severely, by tornadoes and high winds which swept southwestern Missouri and northwestern Arkansas last night.

Sixteen were known dead, twelve were reported missing and thirty were injured at Green Forest, Ark., by a tornado which wrecked the business district and devastated nearby farms. Fire broke out after the tornado, destroying a cannery and several houses.

Nine were reported killed at Denver, Ark., a village about 12 miles northeast of Green Forest, which is 100 miles south of here.

Two persons were injured and buildings were damaged by a tornado near Marshallfield, in Webster county, Missouri. Hail and high winds also damaged buildings and crops in Howell and Oregon counties.

Doctors Rush to Scene.

Reports indicated losses would run heavy throughout the Green Forest district. Special trains were en route to the area today, carrying doctors, nurses and supplies.

The storm apparently centered at Green Forest, where upwards of 700 houses and stores were destroyed or damaged. Streets were filled with debris which hampered rescue crews.

Two churches were converted into dressing stations and one later was designated as a morgue. Sixteen bodies had been recovered early today.

As the storm severed power lines as well as telephone and telegraph wires, the rescuers stumbled about with lanterns, tracing the cries of injured or marking spots where people were believed pinned or buried by stone and timbers.

Hail and wind shattered windows in almost all business buildings, and in practically every home. No effort was made to combat the fires.

The entire population, that portion that escaped the storm's fury, was milling about the streets during the early morning hours waiting for daylight to reveal the true picture of disaster.

Women, some hysterical, crying children clinging to them, roamed the streets. The men were doing their bit toward recovering the bodies.

Known Dead at Green Forest.

The known dead at Green Forest included:

Mrs. H. T. Jones.
Mrs. R. B. Galloway.
Mrs. Fannie Norris.
Mrs. Jerry H. Jones.
Mrs. Hulsey.
Mrs. Rice.
Mrs. Moore.
Polk Jones.

Several babies and children of grade school age were thought to have perished as many of the victims were caught in their homes at about 8 o'clock.

Tison mountain country farmers said the storm broke near Berryville about 7:45 p. m. and swept southeast to Green Forest to level the south end of the city.

POST OFFICE ADOPTS ADVERTISING OF SELF.

Berlin, March 19 (AP).—The German post office hasn't adopted the system proposed and then abandoned in England of putting out private advertising matter on letters in the form of postmarks, but it is now following the method long used in both England and America and doing a little advertising on its own account in this way.

Letters cancelled in the Berlin post office now bear beside the postmark the familiar legend prominently displayed: "Don't forget to address your letters by street and house number."

GOVERNMENT HAS SYSTEMATIZED DAY.

Berlin, March 19 (AP).—Every minute of the working day of the German chief executive is accounted for by the secretaries of President von Hindenburg at his "white house."

Edgar Wallace, who turns out mystery stories by the yard, came to the German capital for inspiration, but he says the absolute precision there was altogether too much for him.

As an example, he cited his appointment with President von Hindenburg at seven minutes past the hour and the next caller was scheduled to see the Field Marshall four minutes and a half later.

COLLEGE GIRLS WIN IN DEBATE OVER BOTS

Auburn, N. Y., March 19 (AP).—College girls triumphed over college boys last night in debate over the status of their sex. Three judges unanimously decided that Wella College girl debaters outshined Hamilton College men speakers, debating at Wella, Auburn, the question: "Resolved, that the entrance of women into public and public life is to be deplored." The girls carried the negative side of the question, of course.

Ellenville Chief Of Police Resigns

Chief Curry of Village Police Force Follows Acquittal on Charge of Assault With Resignation.

Roy M. Curry, police chief of Ellenville, who was acquitted by a jury of a charge of assault Saturday, March 12, tendered his resignation to the village board on Thursday.

The arrest, trial and acquittal of Chief Curry was the outcome of an attack by masked men on Arland J. Sanderson, bus proprietor, and Curry's brother-in-law, on the night of December 22 last, following attentions Sanderson was said to have paid to Jennie Turner of Napagoch. At the time Sanderson was attacked, he was asked by the masked men if he expected to continue to carry the Turner woman as a passenger on his bus.

After the attack a cross was found in the field opposite the Sanderson home and it was taken down and placed in the Sanderson cellar, by Mrs. Sanderson.

The attack caused considerable excitement in the village and was the major topic for gossip for some time after and finally led to District Attorney Frederick G. Traver issuing subpoenas for a John Doe hearing to be held before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler at Ellenville.

However, before the date set for the hearing Sanderson swore out a warrant for the arrest of Chief and Mrs. Curry and his own wife, Mrs. Sanderson, charging them with instigating the assault. The arrest created a sensation in the village.

The trial, which, owing to the large attendance, had to be held in Hunt Memorial Hall on the village square, resulted in the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

Curry was represented by Frank W. Brooks while Sanderson was represented by Leroy Lounsbury.

The testimony given at the trial of Chief Curry failed to clear up the mystery and the identity of the masked men who attacked Sanderson is still unknown.

The trials of Mrs. Curry and Mrs. Sanderson are still pending.

Smith's Manager Heads Democrats

Colonel Lehman, Successful Campaign Manager, Reported to Be Slated for Chairman of Democratic State Committee.

New York, March 19 (AP).—The reported selection of Colonel Herbert H. Lehman, New York banker, as chairman of the State Democratic Committee, was generally viewed in political circles today as the initial movement in corraling delegates for Governor Alfred E. Smith for the Democratic nomination for president.

Colonel Lehman was campaign manager for Governor Smith in his successful fight for re-election over Ogden L. Mills last fall and is said to be favored by the governor for the position.

Leutenant Governor Corning, the committee chairman, it is reported, will willingly retire at a meeting of the committee expected to be held shortly after the close of the Legislature to elect a successor to the late Robert J. Powers, of Binghamton, secretary of the committee.

The Times says Governor Smith and his friends plan a re-ignition of the committee along lines started by Mr. Corning and that at the proper time it is proposed to have the committee sponsor Governor Smith's candidacy for the presidency.

The selection of Colonel Lehman, says the Times, also will be likely to heal a tendency toward jealousy among different groups of the governor's advisers by giving him an official position which will naturally make him custodian of the Smith boom in its early stages.

Two Slain by Mexican Bandits

El Paso, Tex., March 19 (AP).—George Holmes, former El Paso railway rancher, and Jose Ramos were slain Wednesday in the mountains of Chihuahua, according to word received here last night by J. E. Miranda, attorney for Holmes, from Holmes' widow. She gave no details.

Miranda expressed the belief that he was slain by Mexican bandits while taking some rich ore to the west coast. Holmes owned 14 rich mines in the state of Chihuahua.

Holmes is said to have been one of Villa's most trusted lieutenants in the United States during the latter's rebel activities in Mexico. With Frank Miller, Ernest S. Stadler, Dick Harrell and John Henry Minahan, Holmes was mentioned in United States district court here in 1919 on a charge of theft of ordinance and ammunition from the government. He was sentenced to five years in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

There will be a special meeting of the London Federation Club at 8 p. m. Sunday at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Fitzgerald, 474 Van Buren street.

Negroes Attack Two White Girls, Race Riot Follows

Thousand Storm Jail In Effort To Remove Three Negroes Held For Attacking Two White Girls—National Guardsmen Patrol Streets—Two Persons Injured.

Coffeyville, Kan., March 19 (AP).—A race riot in which two persons were injured when a mob of more than a thousand men and women stormed the city jail in an effort to remove three negroes held for attacking two white girls, was under control today with national guardsmen patrolling the streets to enforce military rule.

Infuriated by the attack on the girls yesterday, groups of men followed officers about the city in the search for the negroes. Bloodhounds soon took up a trail that led to a frame house. A large crowd surrounded the building which officers announced was vacant in an effort to disperse the mob.

The race failed and after reinforcements arrived, the officers escorted three negroes from the house. By moving slowly through the crowd they took the prisoners to the city jail without incident.

Invade Negro Quarters.

Women and children joined the crowd at the jail where youths encouraged by older persons started stoning it. Police and sheriff's deputies were posted at all entrances and spokesmen for the authorities attempted to persuade the crowd to disperse.

When leaders of the mob were informed that the negroes were not in the jail, groups left the throng to invade the negro quarter, where upwards of four thousand negroes live. Several fist fights occurred between whites and blacks and spasmodic firing began.

William Waddle, 17, a printer's apprentice, was struck in the legs by a charge of buckshot and received a pistol bullet through one arm. The shots were fired by negroes who came to the rescue of one of their race who had been severely beaten. R. C. Walton, a foundry foreman, was injured in the rush to safety as the firing increased.

Break Into Hardware Stores.

As Waddle hurried through the streets to his office, many saw the blood from his wounds and men rushed to hardware stores to obtain guns and ammunition. When they found the doors locked, they broke into the stores and obtained shotguns and ammunition.

Troop B., local national guard cavalry, appeared during the firing. The forty-odd men of the troop scattered through the streets wearing steel helmets and full war equipment. The sight of the soldiers had a quieting effect on many of the mob, but others jeered. Many windows were shattered by stray bullets.

Soldiers then mounted guard over hardware stores and the whites deserted the negro quarter to return to the jail. A fire hose strung through the city hall to aid in repelling attacks on the jail was cut up and carried away.

Officers told the mob that two of the negroes had been exonerated and released, while the third, Curtis Smith, had been removed from the jail on the fire truck which brought the hose.

State Officials Send Messages.

Youths led by men then rushed for filling stations to obtain gasoline, to set fire to the jail. The stations had been closed and they returned empty handed. An American flag was then displayed from a city hall window. The mob jeered. Messages from state officials imploring the people to avoid bloodshed, met with similar response.

The mob continued to demand Vanges and Garvin Hardin, brothers, the negroes who were released, as well as Smith. Nearly 1,500 persons had assembled at dusk when rain started and increased from a drizzle to sufficient volume to cause many to leave the jail.

Word was then received that two national guard cavalry units of two nearby towns had been mobilized and would arrive this morning.

The mob began to break up shortly before midnight and only a few remained at one o'clock.

Smith was said to have been removed from the jail during the firing and was reported to have been taken to another city.

In Police Court.

Elizabeth Holsman, a negro who said she was 68 years old, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication. This morning she was given a suspended sentence of ten days in the county jail when arraigned in police court. Raymond Barrios, arrested for train riding, was also given a suspended sentence. After Heatley, arrested on the same charge, is confined to the Kingston City Hospital with a crushed foot sustained Friday evening when steel rails in a coal car on which he was riding suddenly shifted, pinning his foot under the rails.

Our Growing Population.

The following births have been reported to the board of health: Mr. and Mrs. John H. Martin, 68 Murray street, a son, Walter William.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacArthur, 141 Hurley avenue, a daughter, Corlette Leone.

No Mail Robbery To Fit Story

Psychoanalyst Says "The Millionaire Kid" Is a Psychopathic Libel—Futile Search For Crime To Fit Story.

New York, March 19 (AP).—"Pseudologia fantastica" is the psychoanalyst's explanation for the tale told by the pseudo mail robber, Frederick L. Buhl, whose "confession" set postal inspectors, express company detectives and Brooklyn police on a futile search for a crime to fit the story.

Buhl, alias "Campbell," alias "the millionaire kid" was arrested Thursday in a Brooklyn rooming house and told in great detail how he and five others had robbed a mail car on the Chicago and Alton Railroad near Alton, Ill., August 23, 1923, escaping with $300,000. Today, "after a 36 hour investigation, authorities are convinced that the 'robbery' existed only in the prisoner's imagination."

The imagination theory was supported by Dr. A. B. Brill, psychoanalyst who after diagnosing Buhl's case as "pseudologia fantastica" said:

"There are many such cases. They suffer from a mild dementia praecox due to emotional repression. It arises from an unconscious feeling of guilt. In other words it is my opinion, that Buhl is a psychopathic liar."

After postal inspectors had established the fact that no mail robbery had occurred on a Chicago and Alton train in 1923. But this theory was exploded when express company officials at Chicago announced there never had been an express car robbery at Alton.

Meanwhile, in St. Mary's Roman Catholic cemetery in Bismarck, N. D., numerous persons had been digging in vain for the $100,000 in loot which Buhl said he and a companion had hidden there.

Hamilton Mill Presents Puzzle

Mechanical Device Used in Physics Expects Electrical Investigators When It Reverses Itself.

Los Angeles, March 19 (AP).—What makes the world go round never was a more debated point in the early days of science than a question which has stumped electrical investigators here: "What makes the Hamilton mill go around the wrong way?"

The phenomenon was discovered by John Milton Cagle, inventor, who tumbled across it while perfecting a system to protect oil reservoirs, ammunition dumps and other inflammable and explosive centers from lightning.

When he found his Hamilton mill doing certain unorthodox stunts under certain conditions, Cagle called Dr. Alfred W. Simon, fellow of the National Research Council, Dr. Simon looked it over and so did a number of experts, but so far the explanation is lacking.

The Hamilton mill is well known in physics. It consists of a horizontal arm set on a pivot in the center, each end of the arm terminating in a metal point bent back at 90 degrees angles in opposite directions. When set up in a field of electrical stress, the mill revolves like a lawn sprinkler, the points traveling behind as if some force leaving them were propelling the mill.

Case substituted wooden points for metal ones and the mill revolved in the other direction, the wooden points leading the circular parade. When the wooden points were moistened the mill performed normally until the whirling dried them off, whereupon the arm slowed down to a stop and then started going the wrong route again.

Clubber and Boy Victim Dying

Detroit, March 19 (AP).—A clubber and his 11-year-old victim were at the point of death in local hospitals today, while police checked up on the former in an effort to ascertain if he is the terrorist who has been operating in a number of Michigan and Ohio cities, principally Toledo.

Edward Ballard, of Fordson, Mich., an ex-convict, was shot down last night by a policeman, a few minutes after he is alleged to have mauled William Truett, a news boy.

Ballard, according to the police, lay on the boy as he passed an alley on route home and battered him with a sword of damocles bat, until interrupted by the approach of a policeman.

Police came upon Ballard a few minutes later, crouched behind a telephone pole, and shot him. A search of Ballard's clothing revealed, in addition to the bat, a pistol, a short iron bar, three coils of rope and a number of cartridges. The man was later identified as a former inmate of the Michigan state prison at Jackson, where he served a term for criminal sexual.

Declares Ford Is Lenient on Soviet

Editor of Dearborn Independent Says Weekly Opposes Bolshevism While Ford Regards Soviet Russia With Lenient Eye.

Detroit, March 19 (AP).—Henry Ford's opinions are yet to be uncovered in the $1,000,000 libel suit brought in federal court here by Aaron Sapiro.

A battery of lawyers, on their feet at every attempt to lift the lid for a peep into the brain of the automobile manufacturer, have successfully blocked all questions.

Two facts about Ford were learned, however, in the few minutes his editor, William J. Cameron, was on the stand yesterday. He regards Soviet Russia with a lenient eye while his weekly, the Dearborn Independent, is opposed to Bolshevism.

"Do you ever hold any conferences with Mr. Ford?" asked William Henry Gallagher, attorney for Sapiro. "And if so were the policies of the paper discussed?"

"Only in a most general way," replied Mr. Cameron, "and I can't recall any discussions except when we have differed with him. For instance, Mr. Ford is against war and the paper is for preparedness. Ford also looks on the Russian people with a lenient eye and the Independent is opposed to Bolshevism."

Gallagher picked him up eagerly. "You mean Mr. Ford is pro-Soviet?" "I didn't say that," Cameron corrected. "I said he was more lenient."

Whenever Gallagher attempted to pin the editor down as to details of conferences with Ford, defense counsel became vociferous.

"It's the very core of the case," protested Sapiro's attorney, but he was consistently overruled.

"Prior to 1924 were the Dearborn Independent and Mr. Ford in full accord with reference to the international ring of bankers?" asked plaintiff counsel. To which the defense objected and was sustained.

Attorney Gallagher then said it would be necessary for the records of the publishing company to be brought into court before he could proceed and the case was adjourned until Monday.

The crowd that attempted to get into the court room yesterday broke all records. All semblance of order was lost in the pushing, pulling and jamming.

Cameron was placed on the stand immediately after Senator Reed completed his opening statement. It was expected Ford would take the stand himself Monday but the trial has moved so slowly he probably will not be called before the latter part of the week.

Tellez Back, Will Call on Kellogg

Mexican Ambassador Returns to Capital From Mexico City, Where He Conferred With Calles.

Washington, March 19 (AP).—A more complete "understanding over points at issue between the United States and Mexico appeared imminent today as a result of the return of Manuel C. Tellez, the Mexican ambassador to the capital.

Arriving from a visit to Mexico City where he conferred with President Calles upon the controversy that has arisen between the two sister republics, the ambassador announced one of his first acts would be a call upon Secretary Kellogg.

Pending his visit to the state department, he declined to talk about matters slated for discussion at the conference. The ambassador, however, now is regarded as being in a position to present fully, should he so desire, the personal views of the Mexican president and any utterances that he may make in this regard would receive close attention.

Almost simultaneous with his return last night, President Coolidge noted at the White House what was said to be a temporary cessation at least in acts of confiscation in Mexico directed against American-owned property. It was stated that there had been no recent developments in the controversy over the Mexican oil and land laws, but whether this is in any way significant in relation to recent diplomatic relations between the two governments was not disclosed.

Heavy Snowstorm Hits Middle West

Denver, Colo., March 19 (AP).—Colorado and Wyoming lay under one of the heaviest snow blankets of the winter today after a storm last night that approached blizzard proportions.

Traffic in many mountain towns was virtually at a standstill, while highways were blocked with deep drifts. Silverton, San Juan Basin mining town blockaded for a month by slides, received a heavy additional amount of snow to again delay escape attempts to clear railroad lines.

Sharp drops in temperature were recorded throughout the storm zone, with the prospect of a cold wave entering the southwest and parts of the middle-west today.

Stolen Car Found

At 2:20 o'clock this morning Elmer Carey of 166 Foxhall avenue reported to the police that his Ford coupe had been stolen. At 3:14 a.m. it was found abandoned in front of the American Cigar Factory by Officer Burger.

Letter Writer Fined $30.

H. H. Rogers of East Kingston, arrested Thursday on a charge of disorderly conduct in writing letters to a married woman which he entrusted for delivery to another man who gave them to the woman's husband, was found guilty by Judge Walter Webster at Flatbush, town of 19th, Friday evening. A fine of $30 was imposed, which was paid.

Bills to Hold Service.

Members of Kingston Lodge, No. 559, B. F. O. Elks, of which Judge James Jenkins was a member, will gather at the residence of deceased, 25 Hamilton avenue, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock where the Elks' funeral service will be held by the officers and members.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

PETER'S TRIP

"There was once," said Daddy, "a little boy named Peter who had always longed to see the man in the moon."

"Every night when there was a full moon he would sit at his window and look at the funny, jolly face of the old man until he became so sleepy he would have to go to bed."

"One night he sat watching so long that he fell sound asleep by the window."

"It was not long before he saw the strangest thing.

"The moon seemed to be growing larger and larger, and soon it was back of a tree near his window."

"He could see quite plainly the jolly old face of his beloved man in the moon looking jollier and fatter than ever."

"The old man grinned from ear to ear at Peter, and in a moment or two he spoke."

"Well, Peter, here I am. Now, how do you like me?"

"And as he spoke, he chuckled and laughed."

"Oh I think you're wonderful," said Peter, with wild enthusiasm and joy.

"So you think I'm wonderful, do you?"

"Ha, ha! Well, that is a joke."

"But there certainly isn't any one else just like me, that's true enough."

"No, maybe I am wonderful because I am so queer. What about that?"

"Oh, no," said Peter, "you're wonderful because you're so fat and jolly and because you're always laughing and seeming to have a good time."

"At that the old man in the moon laughed some more and said:

"Well, you're a funny little chap, too. All folks don't think it's such a compliment to be fat, but I do."

"It's the way I am, you see, and it's best to be satisfied with the way you are, isn't it?"

"If you really like me then I'll take you off in my chariot of mist to visit the stars, and you'll call on all the bright queens of the stars, who sparkle so you can see them from down on the earth."

"So off went Peter with the man in the moon for the most gorgeous trip."

"They visited all the stars, saw the bright fairy queens who live in them and all the little elves and brownies."

"Then the man in the moon showed Peter where in the sky he starred and how he moved every week so that all the little boys and girls in the world could see a full moon every month."

"And Peter could see down below all the wee little houses (they looked so small from where Peter was) and the earth, which looked very funny and small, too, from up in the moon."

"Peter felt a little afraid at first that he'd fall, but as he'd never heard of the man in the moon falling, he felt comfortable."

"Alas, all too soon the journey had to end, for Peter heard the distant sound of a breakfast bell."

"As he yawned he realized he had been asleep all night by the window, but oh, such a gorgeous sleep as it had been!"

Off Went Peter.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Sunday, March 20.

Again this Sunday the People's Radio experts will be opening the radio to the public. The program will be outstanding in the vocal part of the program which will be broadcast by the station at 10:30 a. m. The program will continue to be broadcast by radio at 11:30 a. m. when WJZ and Red Net work stations broadcast the voices of Countess Martinielli, the Italian tenor whom many critics believe to be next in greatness to Caruso. He will sing a group, several of which will be dramatic airs, and will close with "Aida." WJZ tourists will visit the beautiful French Riviera at 12:30 and at the same time the Springfield Hour Ensemble will play through WJZ.

Monday, March 21.

The romantic Roky and his entertaining gang will inaugurate Monday's feature radio programs at 7:00 through WJZ, WJZ and KOKA and other stations of the Blue Network. A mixed quartet and Hadley's orchestra will under a program, mostly popular, through WJZ at 8:30. At 9:00 WJZ and 10 stations will radiate the Gypsy string ensemble and John Barnes Wells, tenor, in a program ranging from a rugged, Northland song to a wandering gypsy air. WJZ, WJZ and KOKA will provide an excellent attraction at 9:30 by the vocal and instrumental presentation of the principal motives from eight musical comedies. WJZ offers two headliners in the Police Band at 9:30 and dramatic excerpts at 9:45. The opera "Nero" in tabloid will come through WJZ and 9 stations at 10:00. Distant features will include a comic opera from KOKA at 10:15 and a glee club concert from WJZ at 11:00.

Aid for State Income Taxpayers

District Director John G. Malone, of the Albany office of the State Income Tax Bureau, in which district Ulster county is located, has assigned Auditor V. M. Terwilliger, who will be found in the court house, Kingston, March 21 through April 2, to give information and assistance to taxpayers in the preparation of their returns for 1927 filing.

While Auditor Terwilliger will be supplied with blanks, "It is desired," said Mr. Malone, "that taxpayers who have previously filed returns bring with them the addressograph blank mailed them from the Albany office. The use of these blanks greatly assists in the filing and audit work in Albany."

Kingston taxpayers are urged to make use of the facilities arranged for their accommodation and requested to attend to their filing in order to avoid the last minute rush.

Most Valuable

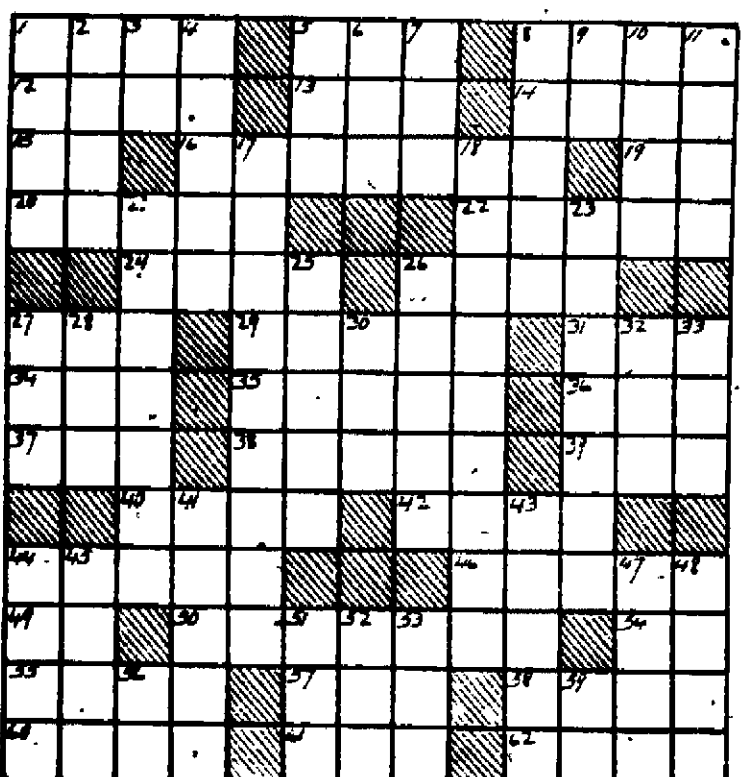

This is said to be the most valuable bit of ivory of its size in existence. It is the "Virgin and Child," done in the thirteenth century French style. Clarence Mackay, telegraph cable lines millionaire, loaned it to an exhibit of religious art in New York for the benefit of the Basilique of the Sacre Coeur de Paris.

Mile Measurement

Ten miles is a standard measure of traffic, based on the rate of carriage per mile of each passenger or on of freight. Car miles is the mileage or aggregate number of miles covered by the entire rolling stock of any system in any given time.

Life's Aim

The architect's plan provides the builder's toll. Before the artist touches the canvas or the sculptor the block of marble, a vivid idea of the picture to be painted and the model to be released must be reflected on the mind's mirror. People fail because they have no inspiring ideal. They never climb because they have no high-top in view.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MARCH 19, 1927.

And now we read of the "automobile poor" and there must be quite a few of them, for there are 10,122,000 registered automobiles and only four million Americans with incomes of more than $2,000.

"Madame X" as played in London by Pauline Frederick, the American actress, must be a nerve-racking spectacle. According to report, it causes people to faint "all over the place"—men as well as women. Apparently fainting is not yet "out of fashion" in England.

Last year this country produced cosmetics to the value of a little over thirty-four million dollars, according to the American Chemical Society, but the New York World, convinced that there is something wrong about this estimate, declares that in a country with more than thirty-six million potential female users of creams, powders and face paint, it is preposterous that they employ only $1 cents worth each. The average woman in this country, says the World, "has more than $1 cents worth of cosmetics on her face every time she goes out of doors." This may be rather lacking in gallantry, but the appearance of the average woman's face in these times tends to provide the assertion with some measure of support.

For years it has been supposed that the stationary population of France has been due to a phenomenally low birth rate, and the French themselves are said to have accepted this view of the matter, their Government offering prizes and tax exemptions for large families. But now it is asserted that the real trouble is not too few births but too many infant deaths. If it is true that, after all, the French birth rate is as high as the British and not far below the German, not only has one more of many popular errors been corrected, but the French authority faces the great and important duty of taking measures to decrease infant mortality—with the possibility in these enlightened times of achieving a considerable measure of success in the undertaking.

In addition to the fact that the Dick-Rice bill increases the amount of state aid for the public schools by $18,500,000 this year and provides for a further increase of $5,500,000 annually until the total increase reaches $25,000,000, there is a revolution in the method of distributing the money that is vicious and unjust. The present distribution is, roughly speaking, based on the needs of the district, in order that exceedingly small schools may receive the aid necessary to sustain them. The Dick-Rice bill changes the basis of allotting state aid from the number of teachers employed in a community to the number of pupils attending school in a community. This is distinctly favorable to the larger cities, with large districts and high valuations, and unfavorable to the very small tax districts with low valuations and few pupils.

An attempt to exempt wages, earnings and salaries from levy and execution under the Garnish Law through an amendment now pending in the Legislature, is being opposed by the New York Merchants' Association. As a result of protests made to the association by some of its members, the executive committee announced the situation and unanimously instructed that the pending measure be opposed without prejudice as to future consideration of the principle involved. Passage of the bill is strongly opposed by the New York State Association of Retail Grocers, and various chambers of commerce in some of the cities of the state which are operating a local credit system based upon the Garnish Law as it now stands. There is no reason for opposing this law. It should either stand as it is or be repealed. There is no middle course and no likelihood will improve the existing law.

One hundred representatives from the State of New York, in session at Albany, N. Y., on Saturday, March 18, 1927, passed a bill to amend the law relating to the garnish process.

section, and petitioned Congress to remove their state's name from the pending seed loan bill. And yet the commodities committee in Congress (Montana's banner wheat producer last year), finds that the acreage producing this crop, 50 per cent is put in by methods that give only a one-in-ten chance of profit, and that few farmers pay attention to pure seed, which may insure success where failure is otherwise probable. These two reports in one great agricultural state throw light on the farm problem. One says that good seed and good cultivation are essential to success, and 50 per cent do not realize it; while the other indicates a local courage and farm skill that makes its own success without laws or gratuities.

REMOVAL OF TEETH OR TONSILLS.

Some folks afflicted with rheumatism, after having infected teeth or tonsils removed, still find that they have not lost the pain in the joints. They are inclined to think perhaps that the doctor was wrong and that they have gone to all the trouble and expense of an operation in vain. However, if a manufacturer decides to close down his plant there will be a great deal of manufactured material in his factory and warehouse, and this cannot be moved out in a day. It must be removed gradually. Similarly with the poisons that cause rheumatism or arthritis, as it is called.

The poisons remain in the system, in the glands, often for a long time. For instance, as noted before, the glands in the neck that have been enlarged in children, due to bad tonsils, take on an average, nearly three years to return to their normal size after the tonsils have been removed.

And still another point must be remembered. Sometimes after an operation for removal of bad tonsils or teeth the pain will leave the affected joint, but the patient is disgusted to find that another one of his joints is beginning to give trouble, and he is practically as bad off as before.

WEST SAUGERTIES.

West Saugerties, March 19.—On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and family were visitors in Kingston and called on Miss Katherine Rightmeyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bush and son, Charles, of Union Church are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolcott, for a week.

David Cole and George Teetsel, built a porch on the Rev. Mr. Norris's bungalow in Blue Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cordes and family and her mother, Mrs. Weirbach, motored to Albany on Wednesday.

On Wednesday Mrs. Michael Beyer took lunch with Mrs. Peter Hommel. Mr. and Mrs. William Knorr and Mrs. Ed. Hommel were Thursday visitors in Saugerties.

Thursday was reception day at the Cole home. In the forenoon Mrs. Charles J. Hommel of Saugerties and in the afternoon Mrs. Sarah Young and her daughter, Mrs. James J. Young, of Saugerties, and Mrs. Nancy Bach of Pompton Lakes, N. J., were the callers, and were very welcome. They called on others here.

Mrs. Peter Hommel spent Thursday afternoon with her sisters, Mrs. John Carr and Mrs. Marjorie Osborne.

QUEER QUIRKS in HUMAN DESTINY

By HARRY R. CALKINS

Lord George's Oversight

THE situation looked dubious for the American Revolutionary cause in the early summer of 1777, when Lieut. Gen. John Burgoyne in command of 8,000 trained soldiers was sailing on Lake Champlain to the attack of Fort Ticonderoga, but 3,000 miles away Lord George Germaine, British secretary of state for the colonies and for war, had committed an oversight which was to assure American independence and the founding of the United States.

Lord George, after carefully planning a campaign in which General Burgoyne was to descend from Canada and Lord Howe was to advance up the Hudson to join him at Albany and thus divide the colonies on the line of the Hudson, had dispatched peremptory orders to Burgoyne but had neglected to let Lord Howe in on the secret. He had in fact gone off on a holiday to the country without signaling Howe's orders.

So General Burgoyne, poet, soldier and British hero, led his formidable army down from Canada, captured Fort Ticonderoga—which gave King George such a thrill that he burst in on the queen shouting, "I have beat them! I have beat all the Americans!"—and proceeded southward to form the scheduled junction with Howe. That worthy warrior, ignorant of Germaine's masterful plan, in the meantime, had sailed away from New York for the Chesapeake, leaving Burgoyne to face the man power of all New England aroused to fear and fury over the loss of Ticonderoga.

Washington, surprised at Howe's departure, was quick to take advantage of Burgoyne's isolation. The Battle of Saratoga and Burgoyne's surrender followed. Lord George Germaine's plans had failed through his own error.

News of Saratoga reached France in the autumn of 1777 and hastened the success of Benjamin Franklin's diplomatic mission. King Louis XVI lost no time in apprising the learned envoy that France was ready to recognize the independence of the colonies.

RECENT NEWS OF THE MOTOR CAR WORLD

Since the beginning of January, 1927, production officials at the Chandler factories have found it necessary to expand their factory personnel by the addition of 1,000 men in order to keep pace with the demand for new Chandler Eight and Sixes. That 1927 is to be Chandler's biggest year is being proved month after month by new sales records. In February Chandler sales exceeded those of January by 47.3%.

Against February, 1926, the sales increase for the same month this year was 20.4%.

American made automobiles are vying with Queen Marie in informing humanitarians about the United States. So great has become their popularity that a Major in the Roumanian army recently selected a new Oldsmobile to make a record-breaking non-stop run which circled the kingdom in but slightly more than 50 hours.

In order that their owners may be free from the annoyance often caused by impure gasoline, the Packard Motor Car Company of New York have recently adopted the Alenite Gasolator as standard equipment. This little device, which for some time has been known to the industry, is in the form of a small glass indicator trap which is so placed between the vacuum tank and the carburetor that it catches and eliminates all impurities in the gas before it reaches the carburetor. Being of glass, the gasoline is always visible and one can tell at a glance the condition of the gas he is receiving. It can be quickly detached and cleaned as occasion demands it.

Graham Brothers, a division of Dodge Brothers, Inc., made and sold more trucks and commercial cars in the month of January than during any previous January in the company's history. This is a definite answer to questions raised at the first of the year about what 1927 holds for the motor truck industry, according to officials. Trucks and commercial cars shipped from all Graham Brothers' plants for the first month of this year totaled 4,255, as against 3,765 in January, 1926, which in turn surpassed all preceding first months. Now, production has been increased to 275 units a day, nearing the record peak established in May, 1926. Demand is still growing, the company reports.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

March 19, 1907.—Senator Linnson retained as counsel by New York City in Archbald condemnation proceedings.

March 19, 1917.—N. A. Brown and Fred W. Phillips of New York took title to tract of land on Clinton Avenue for the building of a garage to be known as the Clinton Garage.

Death of John Bourke at his home on East Chester street.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, March 19.—The girls' basketball team of the Saugerties High School has just closed a very successful season under the leadership of Miss Pierpont. The girls feel very proud of their record and out of seven contests made six wins.

A very interesting meeting was held in the Congregational Church on Thursday evening when the Rev. T. L. Leverett, pastor of the church, showed in stereopticon pictures the Holy Land. On Sunday evening the men will have charge of the singing and Dr. Luther Emerick of this village will give an address which all are welcome to hear.

Mr. and Mrs. George William of Alsen spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Post on Clermont street.

Benjamin A. Burnett of Elm street has purchased a new Whippet coach from the local agent on Market street.

The eighth annual concert of the Saugerties Glee Club will be held in the Reformed Church on Friday evening. The director and accompanist will be Harry Dodge.

William Van Etten of Montgomery street is ill at his home with pneumonia.

Bernard Sexton of Albany is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Weinand of Montross street. Mrs. Weinand is a sister of Mr. Sexton.

The Saugerties Confectionery Co. on the corner of Main and Partition streets has had an electric refrigeration service placed in its store by the Central-Hudson Electric Company.

Mart Freligh and Joe Yodick, the two Saugerties boxers, will be in action again on Thursday, March 24, at the Jewish Community Center in Kingston.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Reformed Church held a meeting at the home of Mrs. James Dederick on Main street, Friday afternoon.

A large number of members from the O.E.S. Chapter here went to Catskill on Tuesday evening and attended the chapter there. The grand officers of this district made their official visit and were presented with many beautiful gifts. There was a banquet and good musical program.

The Saugerties High School girls' basketball team will meet the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church team of Kingston on Saturday afternoon at this place. The Scout teams Troop No. 1 and No. 3 will also meet and start the opening game.

James Ricks of Ulster avenue has purchased a Chevrolet coach from the Van Buskirk Motor Company on Partition street.

A new curtain has been placed in the Orpheum Theatre on Main street.

George York of Clermont street had his toe broken Wednesday morning while at his work in the Martin Cantine Company mill. The toe was broken when an iron shell fell on his foot.

The local post, American Legion, will vacate its rooms on Main street and will move into the building of Norris R. Lasher.

Miss Frances Keeney of Market street, this village, who has given a number of harp selections, will take part in the concert at the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church in Kingston on Wednesday evening, March 23.

A Pennington studio representative of Kingston was in this village on Tuesday taking pictures of the office of the United Hudson Electric Co. on Main street.

Miss Coletta Ruether of Troy, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ruether of Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mower of Roseton spent Wednesday visiting in town.

Mrs. Anna Boyce, who has been spending some time in Yonkers, N. Y., has returned to her home in this village.

Miss Genevieve Ryer of Albany is the guest of her parents of Elm street.

The brick house of E. H. Gueren on Ulster avenue, which was formerly owned by Mrs. Albert Kriese, is being converted into a two-family house.

Hobart Bach, who was seriously injured some time ago at the mill of the Martin Cantine Company, is improving as nicely as can be expected in the Kingston City Hospital.

Joseph Hackett and family of this village have moved to High Woods.

The interior of the store formerly occupied by Abbott's electric shop, is being painted by John McDonough.

DAILY LESSONS IN ENGLISH

By W. L. Gordon.

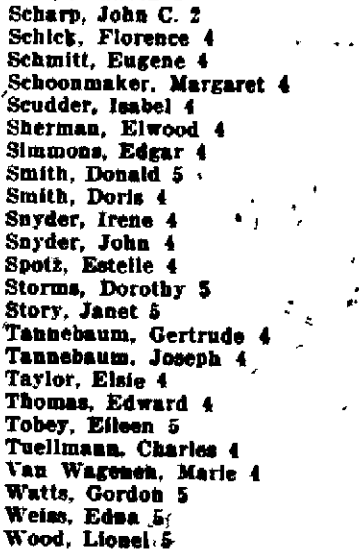

Words Often Misused: Don't "my work is completely finished." Omit "completely." "Finished" does not have to be qualified.

Often Mispronounced: Refutable. Pronounce re-fu-ta-bil, e as in "net," as in "unit," a as in "ash," accent second syllable.

Often Misspelled: Temperament. Synonyms: Elastic, resilient, rebounding, springy, buoyant.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: Indignant; inflamed with anger; what is unworthy, unjust, or dishonorable. "He was very indignant that they should accuse him."

Auto Trucks Are Under-Registered

Albany, March 19.—Recent investigation has shown that many auto trucks throughout the state have been under-registered. In many instances such registrations were made through error and with no intention of the owner to defraud the state out of the required fee, and in more cases it is very evident that applications were sworn to bearing false statements with the full knowledge of the owner. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles is giving opportunity during the next two weeks to owners to re-register their trucks by payment of the proper additional fee and indicating the correct weight and carrying capacity of the vehicle. Those who fail to avail themselves of this opportunity by April 4 will be subject to arrest.

THE JOINERS

The five points of the Eastern Star glittered and twinkled with unusual brilliancy Friday evening at Kingston Chapter, No. 155. Order of the Eastern Star, when Right Worthy Bertha M. Baylor, district deputy grand matron, and Right Worthy Odell L. Johnson, assistant grand lecturer, paid an official visit to the chapter. At 6 o'clock a banquet was served at the Governor Clinton Hotel at which were seated about forty grand officers and members of the chapter. Later the regular meeting was held in the chapter rooms at Broadway and Strand which had been beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion in green and white. Nearly every chapter in the Ulster-Greene district was represented by large delegations. During the evening Right Worthy Bertha M. Baylor delivered a very interesting address in which she spoke of unity and co-operation. The officers of Kingston Chapter formed "A Wheel of Friendship" and presented Sister Baylor with flowers and gifts. Another delightful feature of the evening's program was a tableaux pageant representing the five points of the star. Right Worthy Odell L. Johnson also received a very cordial reception and after a short address was presented with gifts. During the evening Zucca's orchestra rendered a fine program and at the close of the chapter session a banquet was served to nearly four hundred members and guests of the chapter. The evening will long be pleasantly remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be in attendance.

First we went through a grocery store into a courtyard containing beds of flowers and shrubs; from there we followed a crooked alley three feet wide into another courtyard, then through another three-foot alley into a small open square. Surrounding the square was the whitewashed establishment we were in search of. There, however, nothing unusual in finding important stores in such obscure locations in that country.

Sparkling Cut Glass
When washing cut glass use a little ordinary washing soda in the water. This gives the glass a slight sparkling, and lasting effect. Soda tends to make glass dull.

Only recently an under-secretary of the Egyptian legation in Washington was recalled. His wife had figured in an automobile accident. But that was a minor incident. Graver things may happen.

Today she's the youngest "first lady of the legation" in Washington. On her, almost as much as on her father, will rest the duty of representing France. An unintentional snub to someone who holds power, an innocent afternoon spent with someone who "isn't," and Claudel might be sent scurrying home. But France has confidence in its blood beauty.

She will resign until April, when she will return to France with her father to see her older sister married. After that Mme. Claudel will join her husband in Washington.

You do not need a guide, you do not need to know any foreign language to make your way around, according to Miss Nellie Lee Holt, of Falls City, Neb. She explained her secret when she arrived in San Francisco on the last lap of a 90,000-mile cruise: Just smile. Her pretty smile won her courtesies in foreign lands that were denied to potentates, she said.

CANADA WOULD ARRANGE RECIPROCAL TREATY WITH U.

Washington, March 19 (AP).—A announcement of Premier Mackenzie King in the Canadian Parliament that Canada was ready to arrange a reciprocal treaty with the United States to cover the exchange of commodities and fish created lively interest today in Washington. Those in authority were reluctant to comment pending more complete definition of the premier's views. It was held in some quarters that under the tariff law the president could not lower duties on coast products and fish merely for purposes of reciprocal trade agreements.

Under the flexible provisions of the tariff act, it was held, he is limited to changes only to equalize differences in costs of production in this and competing countries.

College Professor to Reside in Ghetto to See How Others Live

Philosopher Finds Studies
Lead Him Across Line
Into Poorer Section.
A mildly aristocratic and well-provided for man is going to spend the Summer in the heart of New York's Ghetto.
Down where the odors are strongest and where the humidity is greatest—where streets are used as garbage receptacles and fire escapes are used as bedrooms, this man is going to "pend his vacation."
He is Dr. Charles Gray Shaw, head of the department of philosophy of New York University. For years, as secretary of the National House Committee, allied with the philosophies of August Heckcher, he has studied conditions of the poor.
He has sat in on conferences on the Trickster plan, which calls for the burning out of tenement blocks, tearing them down, and building apartments to rent at low cost. He has read hundreds of reports on conditions in the poorer sections of the East Side. He has tabulated reams of data on the seamy side of life.
But after all his studies, he felt somewhat lacking.
"Personal contact," he decided.
Then he made his plans.
"As soon as warm weather arrives,
I propose to find a room in the most crowded part of the Ghetto, make it as livable as possible, and dwell right amid the squalor of which the academic world hears only in a round about way," he said.
"I shall indulge in no luxuries. I hope to eliminate tenement house odors by smoking plenty of cigarettes, and when I need a bath, I can journey to Coney Island. I'm going into the worst building I can find and make it my home until the Fall term of school opens."
Because the poorer sweeps flank the better sections, Dr. Shaw is now living within a few blocks of the district he intends to invade.
Into such a neighborhood as this Dr. Charles Gray Shaw (inset),
New York University professor, plans to spend his vacation.
Note the garbage receptacles on the sidewalks, the pushcarts where most of the shopping is done, and the fire escapes on which residents sleep in hot weather.

Duchess Is Again Beset
by Tragedy

Duchess Dorothea Marie.
The life of Duchess Dorothea Marie,
of Schleswig-Holstein-Gottorp, has again uncovered tragedy.
The son she adopted in her childless middle age is now attempting to thrust her into bankruptcy.
The suit was brought through his father,
Prince Albert, of Schleswig-Holstein.
The nature of the suit was cruelly embarrassing. It was brought at a time when other creditors of the war-impaired woman had granted her a moratorium, largely on her prospects of inheriting a large part of the fortune of Carlotta, the mid-wife of Maximilian, of Mexico, who was closely related to the Duchess.
The suit charged that the Duchess failed to preserve her once great fortune by not withdrawing it from Germany before inflation wiped most of it out. Her refusal to withdraw it was considered highest patriotism at the time, and even today many German look upon the suggestion that she should have withdrawn it as a scandal. Once again the Duchess finds herself an innocent person in the midst of unenviable gossip.
Such sorrow began early for the Duchess. When she was barely seventeen, in 1897, she was betrothed to Duke Ernest Gunther. He was thirty-five, his career had ever been a thorn in the side of his brother-in-law, the now deposed Emperor Wilhelm. His occupation had made a disgraceful reputation for himself over Europe, and it had been thrown in his face by several national repul-sions when he sought their daughters in marriage.
So children were born to the couple. It was just as well, the gossips said. They reassured her husband's unstable character and the fact that the Duchess was not only related to the mad Czarina, but was also a granddaughter of Louis, of Belgium, who fled from her husband's cruelties into the arms of a young Austrian lieutenant of Hungary, and who later went insane. "A curse in the line," the gossips said.
Her husband died in 1911.
In her adoption of Prince Albert's son, Ernest thought she had found happiness in an outlet for her long-suppressed love. So it seemed for a while.
But once again Dorothea Marie has found sorrow.

Missing Student Takes Own Life

New London, Conn., March 19
(AP).—Alonso Oswell Brown, 20, missing student of Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, committed suicide by gas today in an apartment he had rented here. He left an uncompleted note to his father, evidently penance as the gas from an open range gradually overcame him. The note indicated ill health was the motive.
His body was found by the husband of the proprietress of the apartment house, who was awakened by the gas odor escaping from the young man's room.
MEN'S SUITS IN RED
AND SUNSHINE YELLOW.
London, March 19 (AP).—Tomato red suits will be worn by brunette men on Piccadilly this spring if the recommendations of the National Federation of Merchant Tailors are accepted by the public.
There also will be sunshine yellow for men with whose coloring it harmonizes. This is the newest shade which James Weddell, the president of the federation, has espoused.
Raisin purple also is very generally offered by fashionable tailors, who are giving more attention than ever before to giving men suitings which do not clash with their complexions. Browns are shown in a great profusion of shades, many of them very bright. In fact, suitings are much brighter than they were for winter and London tailors are trying to convert their customers away from the traditional dark grays, blues and browns which make London streets so drab.

NAME CHANGED
Hartford, Conn., March 19 (AP).—
Helen L. Sales would seem a good enough name for almost anybody, but Helen didn't think so, and yesterday the board of registration agreed to carry the name on the voting list as T. Lewis Sales.
When Helen appeared to register he explained that his parents had been looking forward to having a daughter, and had decided to name her Helen. When a son instead arrived, they decided to give him the name, anyway. So as Helen L.
Sales he had been known until the board took pity on him.
